

ALE Association for Free Education

Overall

We are a non-profit association that aims to be a place of meeting, reflection and help for all the families that choose to educate without school and for all people related to our search for an educational alternative based in freedom.

Responsible decisions

We are people that have decided to reflect, in a thoughtful and responsible way, in which we are responsible for the education and the learning of our children, without wishing to delegate this task to third persons and institutions.

We unite in the difference

Having this interest as a common denominator, in the association we find people and families that come from different geographical areas, with different economic levels, political and pedagogical ideologies that sometimes do not coincide, and with varied personal experiences that in one way or another have led to converge at this meeting point.

Right to free education

We believe that the State should guarantee a wide range of options of education, free and universal, and facilitate access to other options and to other educational models, including family education. We work for the recognition of our educational option in administration.

Freedom of learning

One of the goals that we pursue as families is the freedom to choose how we want the younger ones to learn, the freedom so that they can choose how they learn, where, at what pace, with whom or in what way. By conquering this freedom of choice, based on respect for the individual and their difference, they will foster sensitivity towards diversity and freedom of thought and opinion.

Our objectives

More and more people are looking for educational alternatives based on freedom. However, home-schooling remains an option that the minority of Spain has not yet normalized by society. That is why and for what reason that the Association for Free Education was constituted, trying to join forces to achieve the standardization of our option of education and offering support to all those who decide to choose to educate their sons and daughters, without delegating it to other institutions.

Defend the right of families.

We defend our right as parents to educate our children and respecting their rhythms and their individuality.

We provide support and information.

We favour the creation of local groups that facilitate meeting places and of mutual support between people who educate at home.

Claiming legal recognition

We want to build a framework of official and explicit recognition of this educational option, something that is already a reality in most of the surrounding countries and countries around the world.

Creating networks

We create networks with groups and groups related to free education that unite us and enrich us.

Supporting Diversity

We are not tied to or spokespeople for any political, confessional, or pedagogical movement.
